BUSINESS CONSULTING SERVICES

Organization Structures

In a strong organization, responsibility is not used as a vehicle for pointing fingers. It is used to identify areas within the company that need improvement.

Policies & Procedures

Every company needs a policies & procedures manual to guide its operations, strategy, and workflow.

corporate Governance

Having good corporate governance means good internal control and effective boards.

Human Resource Services

we come up with a staffing plan that meets your company's staffing needs and business goals.

HUMAN RESOURCE SERVICES

Our consultancy 'engagements range from operational and strategic HR services, HR technology and digital transformation, and HR training to partial or complete HR outsourcing services.

We work with clients to develop and implement simple, practical, and yet powerful HR solutions that boost organizational performance.

We work with, owners, CEOs, and HR leaders to solve their complex HR issues and transform their HR function to a more business partnering role. We work with organizations of all sizes under four main service offerings: organizational transformation, talent & HR services, digital HR transformation, and HR outsourcing services. Naturally, no one service package fits all, so we customize our service offer to meet clients' needs and requirements.

POLICIES & PROCUDURES

Building a high performing organized organization.

We help organizations to streamline their processes, clarifying work steps and therefore we make staff work smoothly and surely. We build the policies of each department in the organization and complete that with the necessary procedures STEP by STEP in an SOP Manuel.

SOPs are developed to help employees understand how to perform tasks according to the organization's standards. These standards ensure consistent quality and efficiency in the workplace.

The benefits of implementing SOP manuals in the business are numerous, it helps maintain consistency in the work, reducing errors, improving productivity, and reducing training time for new employees.

IT SOLUTIONS

We are boutique by design. We have a very selective and intimate team of experts with passion and experience in all facets of the web, print and software domain.

Product Development

We develop products from concepts to market, that is robust, fast & future-proof.

Logo & Brand Identity

Branding is like story telling. We believe that each brand has emotions and stories to tell.
